

Resource Specialists

You define the path. We pave the way.

Seniors aging at home, their families and caregivers need a trusted source of information about all things aging. They also need an advocate who will stand up for their best interests. That's what our AgingNext resource specialists are all about.

About the program:

We are your advocate in times of need, helping you resolve issues that come with aging. This often leads to long-term relationships that ensure you get the support you need to live fully with purpose and promise.

Who is eligible?

Anyone looking for resources for seniors 55+ can contact our resource specialists for help and guidance. Our job is to get you to the right person, place, service and information based on your needs today while helping you plan for tomorrow.

*Live well.
Age well.*

How it works:

Resource specialists serve as a single point of contact for you and your loved ones. Their knowledge of local agencies, regulations and legislation provides a wealth of information about aging resources. They also work closely with various cities and counties and know about community programs that can augment those provided by AgingNext.

Who benefits:

Seniors aging at home, their families and caregivers can breathe a sigh of relief knowing they'll get the help they need when they need it. No more poking around the web or hoping for useful advice from friends. Call AgingNext and we'll get you or your loved ones on the right track with a personalized aging plan that works for you.

The AgingNext Resource Specialist Program is an invaluable resource for the local community. I have appreciated collaborating with them to promote the well-being of seniors. Their knowledge of local programs is vast - Meals on Wheels, Medi-Cal and In-Home Supportive services, volunteers and companions, support groups, welfare benefits, senior apartments and housing benefits, safety devices and equipment, transportation options, and more! AgingNext's commitment to seniors is truly inspiring!
